COUNCIL GAINS CONCESSIONS FROM RAILROAD OFFICIALS.

Leisnering Avenue Is Not to Be Vacated and Much Paving Is to Be Done by the Railroad Companies—Quick Action Is Wanted So Work Can Be Started With in the Borough Limits Promptly.

The railroad ordinances were not passed by Council last night and will come up for further consideration next Friday evening. In the interim the Borough Solicitors will amend the ordinances originally introduced, inserting the concessions agreed upon by the railroads.

The most serious objection to the ordinances as they were originally submitted was presented by Attorney E. C. Higbee, representing M. J. Robin and others at the West Side. Although ostensibly providing for the protection of those who might be damaged as the result of vacating certain streets, Mr. Higbee pointed out the fact that damages cannot be recovered from a borough for vacating a street. The railroad companies agreed to protect the borough from damages that might be recovered, it being impossible to recover damages under the circumstances.

Mr. Higbee asked for time. He stated that since the attorneys for the railroad companies had drawn up the ordinance the way they wanted them, he desired to submit one for consideration of Council which would embody all the concessions asked by the railroads and at the same time protect property owners who might be damaged.

Attorney W. J. Sturgis was rather indignant at such a suggestion and resented the idea of an outsider projecting himself into the ordinance framing business.

The outcome of the meeting was that while Mr. Higbee's request to submit an ordinance was not granted, new ordinances will be drawn and submitted to Council Friday night for action. One big concession which was forced for the benefit of M. J. Robin and the other property owners was that Leisnering Avenue is not to be vacated. This will make conditions in the plan of the railroad line far better than would have existed had the original ordinance been passed.

Besides forcing this point Council secured pledges of paving and other improvements which will run into thousands of dollars. There was an array of legal talent present from Connellville and Uniontown. Attorneys W. J. Sturgis, of the firm of Howell, Sturgis & Morrow, and Judge E. H. Reppert, were present in the interests of the Western Maryland and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. E. C. Higbee had been retained by a number of West Side citizens, some of whom were present. Borough Solicitors S. H. Shelly and J. K. Bonner were both in attendance, though Shelly was the chief representative of the borough called upon for advice.

President Millard called the meeting to order at 8:15, and asked if any of the West Side people present had statements to make. Attorney Higbee explained that he appeared in behalf of M. J. Robin, and a number of other people who might be damaged by the passing of the ordinance.

In beginning Higbee said his clients were not opposed to granting permission to the railroad to enter the city. Neither are they opposed to the vacating of streets necessary to be made by the railroad, but they are interested only that their rights be protected. The attorney then explained that in most cases of this nature the law provides a way in which those who suffer damages because of railroad construction can recover. But, in the present case, there will be no right of action for redress for persons injured or who suffer because of the damage.

"If these ordinances are passed, we would be left absolutely without remedy to recover any damages," the speaker stated. Continuing he said: "The vacation of streets is a franchise action between the borough and the property owner, and it is because of this between you and us that we have no right of action. We favor the entering of the railroad into this city, but at the same time the private rights of these people whose property will be damaged should be taken care of. These ordinances ought to be redrafted and the streets vacated only on condition that the railroad company agrees to pay damages to those who should seek redress."

"All we ask is to delay this matter, and let us submit ordinances in the form that will protect our rights," Mr. Higbee was asked to explain how the property owners would be protected if the ordinance was not passed. As an illustration the attorney stated that some of the school children will be obliged to go three times as far to attend the school in that section of the city as they do now. Other people would be obliged to go various distances ranging from a block to half a mile, he said to reach points that are now for a short cut.

"Council should not presume," Mr. Higbee said, "that there are or are not any damages. There is a question for the property owners and the railroad company to settle. If it is found that there are no damages, then the borough has lost nothing by protecting its citizens. If you pass the proposed ordinance you say that there is no damage or else the owners ought not to have any. If you pass the ordinance we propose then you are simply protecting the land owner in case he is injured."

General Real Estate Agent J. G. Grooms, of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, stated that there was a clause in the ordinance by which the railroad company agrees to protect the borough from any damages that it may sustain. Higbee argued that was not the point and repeated that the borough had the right and power to require the railroad company to pay damages to the land owners if there be any damages. Grooms continued, saying his people were willing to pay any damages that are legitimately sustained, and added that in his opinion the proper clause should be put into the ordinance, but by the attorneys for the railroad company and the borough without the assistance of outsiders.

Attorney W. J. Sturgis, for the company, next took the floor, and by way of introduction said he only came into the case that afternoon. Referring to the argument of Attorney Higbee he reminded Council that it was admitted the railroad company was not liable for damages and that Council knew so was not doing. He continued, "Yet he wants Council to pass legislation that the Legislature has not seen fit to pass. It is getting outside of our public duty and taking up private affairs which it comes to signing a contract to pay damages for which Council or the railroad company are not liable."

Sturgis spoke in favor of the railroad before closing, saying it was the duty of Council to look to the interests of the general public. He said it was a benefit to Connellville to have the Western Maryland through this city, and it was its duty to grant franchises to the railroad companies to operate their lines. The railroad was sure to prove more useful than the streets which it will be necessary to vacate, Sturgis stated, and he urged Council to pass an ordinance to that effect.

Another railroad representative, Judge E. H. Reppert, spoke for a few minutes in favor of the proposed ordinance. He stated that the railroad companies recognize certain damages in cases of this kind and usually either the railroad company or Council is liable, but here we have a case where the damages are sustained by the borough and definitely established, and for which the law does not provide.

"The law provides for you to deal with it, but Mr. Higbee wants some of the West Side people to sue the law does not provide for. He wants us to agree to pay certain damages to a number of people who may seek to recover. If we must deal with a number of private individuals, we will be in the use of coming to Council."

"If that sort of an ordinance is passed, then in addition to dealing with you, we shall be dealing with what ever private individuals seek to come into the matter, and instead of dealing with you we are dealing with him and he will become a party to the transaction."

President Millard called on Borough Solicitor S. H. Shelly who said in reply: "In regard to the clause added in the ordinance, we had the matter up with the railroad attorneys this afternoon and they are perfectly willing to make any changes necessary and agree to stand between the borough and the property holders to pay any damages, costs or suits that may arise by reason of the vacation of the streets. That is all the law requires and it is because of this that we have no right of action. We favor the entering of the railroad into this city, but at the same time the private rights of these people whose property will be damaged should be taken care of. These ordinances ought to be redrafted and the streets vacated only on condition that the railroad company agrees to pay damages to those who should seek redress."

"All we ask is to delay this matter, and let us submit ordinances in the form that will protect our rights," Mr. Higbee was asked to explain how the property owners would be protected if the ordinance was not passed. As an illustration the attorney stated that some of the school children will be obliged to go three times as far to attend the school in that section of the city as they do now. Other people would be obliged to go various distances ranging from a block to half a mile, he said to reach points that are now for a short cut.

"Council should not presume," Mr. Higbee said, "that there are or are not any damages. There is a question for the property owners and the railroad company to settle. If it is found pass upon them Friday night. The importance of this is more than I can explain."

President Millard stated that the borough did have some concessions to ask and called upon Councilman Thomas to read the list, which was as follows: That the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie pave Veech street with a substantial stone curb and brick pavement from Main street to the borough line; also to erect a new concrete bridge across Pessum Run, the paving from the bridge to the borough line, or where it connects with the county road, to be done with hillside before pave Seventh street from Main to Meason streets; pave Meason street from Seventh street to the alley between Eighth and Ninth streets.

"That the Western Maryland pave Leisnering and Meason streets and the alley on right of way along property line. Leisnering avenue to be left open; also that when the borough is ready to pave Seventh street from Main street southward, the railroad company agree to pay its portion of the expense."

The list of concessions asked was submitted to the railroad people who asked five or ten minutes to go over the matter. The request was granted, but the officials made the best of the time and stretched it to three-quarters of an hour. All points were carefully gone over. Permission was asked to construct a cross street from the bridge to the borough line the same as the present State road with which it will connect. When improvements are made on the State road, similar improvements are to be made on the 700-foot stretch which the company will build.

Councilman William McCormick objected and asked that the railroad people break the road up to Leisnering street, which they agreed to do. From Leisnering street to the borough line the construction will be that of a State road.

In paving Seventh street from Main to Meason, Grooms thought it was asking the company to pay more than its share, but they were willing to pay two-thirds of the cost, the borough and railroad expenses, including the church and school properties.

Permission was asked to place supports for the trestle over Leisnering avenue on the curb line, which it was stated would give more room overhead. This request was granted.

Grooms readily agreed to have the railroad stand the total expense of paving Seventh street from Main to Meason, which he had objected to, and the matter was settled. As a way of finding out just what the companies intended to place upon the railroad, President Millard put the question plainly to Mr. Grooms. Again this gentleman repeated, "That's a hard question to answer. Whether the company intend to place upon the railroad people put their shops usually wherever they are needed. At McKees Rocks he said they have erected large shops for the purpose of building their cars and making repairs."

"As this is the terminal of both roads it is entirely likely there will be improvement of some kind at this point, but just what they will be I cannot say." No more questions were asked.

Attorney Reppert impressed upon Councilman Thomas the fact that speed was desired in passing the ordinance. It was because of this that they had agreed to the concessions asked by Council with such a spirit of willingness, he said. Grooms added that there were several things agreed to which he did not think were exactly right, but they had passed all of those by in order to rush matters.

As a favor he asked that an adjournment be taken until next Friday evening. The ordinance will be drawn up in the meantime and passed upon by the Ordinance Committee on Thursday evening.

Councilmen present were: President J. B. Millard, W. H. Thomas, Lamar Stillwagon, P. M. Hutterman, B. L. Her, E. C. Howell, W. A. Bishop, S. H. Hay, William McCormick, J. M. Marlette, Cyrus Stoner, John T. Reppert, Frank Priel, T. J. Brennan, S. E. Brant, W. P. Clark, J. P. Roper, J. T. Reynolds, and H. Claude Hays.

Andy Tried to Smash Lantern

Andy Hornum will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark this afternoon on charges of violating the mining laws, ordered by Mine Inspector P. J. Walsh, Constable E. P. Crawford arrested Hornum yesterday at Leisnering No. 1.

It is alleged Hornum attempted to break the lamp but hit it several times in an effort to do so.

Colonel Jim is 69. Mrs. James J. Barnhart will entertain a number of friends at a dinner this evening at her home at Sunnyside in honor of the 69th birthday anniversary of her husband, Colonel Barnhart.

New Ovens Fired. The U. C. Frick Coke Company this morning had orders for the furnace firing of additional ovens at the following plants: Buckeye, 39; Standard, 109; Edenburg, 20.

CONSTABLE MURDERED WHILE MILKING COW.

Tragedy Near Johnstown This Morning Is Discovered by Murdered Man's Son.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 15.—Constable Jerry Shaffer, about 50 years old, of Rummel, a little mining village near here, was murdered about 7 o'clock this morning while in his barn milking a cow. The arrested neighborhood believing that the murderer is hiding in the building, is guarding the barn until the arrival of the State Constabulary and bloodhounds from Somerset.

It will be several hours before the officers can reach Rummel. Shaffer and his second son, Korn, aged 19, went to the barn to do their usual morning chores, the boy watering the horses while his father started the milking. After returning the horses to the barn the boy went to the house for a few minutes. When he returned to the barn he found the body of his father lying under a cow. Shaffer had been instantly killed by a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver entering the base of his brain just back of the right ear. Shaffer had lived at Rummel for 20 years and was well known and well liked. He had no enemies and the only reason that can be given is that robbery was the motive of the murder. This morning, however, Shaffer had no money with him.

COUNCILMEN TAKE IN THE WEST SIDE.

While Inspecting Ground Railroads Want They Find Mud, and Plenty of It.

TORRENCE AVENUE A QUAGMIRE

But the Mud in the Sixth Ward Isn't In It For Sticking Qualities With That of Greenwood—Barney O'Connor and Frank Curtis Kick.

It was a "Seeling" Connellville party that inspected the West Side yesterday with the railroad officials. The members of the party saw parts of the greater city they haven't seen for years—some of them. They also saw in what lovely condition the streets are, with their mud and at times impossible crossings.

The tour of inspection was almost superfluous. The comprehensive maps prepared by the railroad officials and formerly Engineer J. B. Hoag were sufficiently comprehensive for the Councilmen and the district. The visit to the West Side made these points more comprehensive.

There were quite a few spectators along. Bernard O'Connor, who protests against the vacating of Torrence avenue for the railroad, and railroad agents, and does not think the building of a new water tank proper care of him, talked to Councilman and railroad men. Barney was both argumentative and sarcastic from the start. Frank Curtis, the Italian green goods man, also registered his protest. The objection was that the line of officials straggled along for a distance of several hundred feet. Some of the men were talking in two or three groups gathered about General Real Estate Agent Grooms; some were proffering the official explanations of Assistant Charles Yon. A few listened to O'Connor and Frank Curtis.

The party started from the corner of Seventh and Main; went down Seventh to Meason where the proposed improvements are to be made. From that point all walked, dithered or swam through Torrence, across the bridge over Pessum Run and up the heights of ally and to the five track crossing of the Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, and doing away with the swampy, slippy river bottom road that for years has been a disease breeder and a constant expense to maintain.

After viewing the site of the proposed bridge for the new street connecting the Leisnering Hill road from the tracks of the Pessum Run branch, and narrowly averting a collision with two freight trains hauling Pat Torrence's Trotter code to the steel plants out west, the party left the Lake Erie side and went into Greenwood. There the mud was just as plentiful and even more sticky than in Wash Johnson's Sixth ward. There, ten Councilmen E. C. Higbee joined the party. Mr. Higbee represented M. J. Robin and other property owners in the Greenwood plan east of the line of the proposed railroad. A few well directed questions and plainly stated objections, which were about the first that had been made, had the effect of sending Chief Engineer Pratt into a lecher and after that he replied were principally incoherencies. Mr. Pratt couldn't see how it would be possible to leave Leisnering avenue open, but the protesters began calculating on when they saw the pool of water where Marlette avenue ought to run. The inspection party trailed in from the trip pretty well fagged and carrying a liberal quantity of West Side mud on their shoes. Three minutes were held among all parties concerned in executive session.

BASEBALL FANS ASKED TO MEET

In Chamber of Commerce Rooms Tomorrow Night. To Discuss Plans.

LAST CHANCE FOR THE TOWN

Probably Only Opportunity It Will Ever Have to Get Into Class C Company and Class D League May Never Be Formed.

If Connellville wants organized baseball during the coming summer the fans will have an opportunity to express their views about it tomorrow night when a mass meeting will be held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock. The meeting hasn't been called by any one person in particular, although a few have taken it upon themselves to bring the fans together that they may decide whether there is any chance to have a team here.

A. A. Strath, always a great baseball enthusiast, is taking a great interest in the matter just now and is anxious to find the franchise. Already he is in touch with Larry Strick, the scout of the Independence team who purchased Dutch Myers from the Colons, and Strath said today he had received sufficient assurances from Sutton and others that the Colons will have a six club contract if they decide to take the O. & P. franchise. It is hoped by those interested that the meeting tomorrow night will be largely attended. At that time estimates will be submitted covering the cost of erecting a fence around the ball park.

The whole matter will be gone over in detail and everything explained to the fans who are interested. Announcement was made this morning that East Liverpool had sold most of its players and will not be in the league. The dropping of East Liverpool excludes Stouffville as a possibility and leaves the O. & P. with the alternative of going through the season with a six club contract or taking in two other towns. Fairmount is confident it will be admitted and that Connellville can have a franchise if it wants it.

This is the first opportunity Connellville has had to get into a Class C organization and will probably be the last. The chances of a Class D league being formed in this section are decidedly remote.

Dorothy Arnold Has Not Been Found

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A positive denial was made today by members of the Arnold family and the authorities they said the object of the visit of Marjory Arnold, a sister, there, yesterday was to see Dr. Harrison Arnold, a relative who is an interne.

COKE PRODUCERS FILE COMPLAINTS WITH THE INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

Ten Railroads Are Mentioned in the Petition Presented This Morning and Grievances of Connellville Region Operators Over Discriminatory Rates of Transportation Are Set Forth in Detail.

The war of the merchant coking interests of the Connellville region against discrimination has actually begun. Formal complaint has been made to the proper legal tribunal, the brief has been filed and it will be thoroughly discussed at a dinner to be given by J. W. Semans, at the Uniontown Country Club, Friday evening. We are informed by the invitation that the guests of the evening will be Howard D. Mannington of Columbus, Commissioner of the Ohio Coal Operators' Association, and John W. Bollean of Pittsburgh, "together with coke operators and coal land owners of this region." We are further advised that the after-dinner discussion "will bear entirely upon this paramount industry with which every guest is identified. It is expected that some very pertinent considerations will be advanced touching its present depression and future prospects in the addresses which will be delivered by the gentlemen named and one or two local speakers."

The petition of the Connellville Coke Producers Association to the Interstate Commerce Commission, complaining of discrimination in freight rates against them by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Pennsylvania railroad, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati & St. Louis, Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston, Allegheny Valley Railroad Company and the Erie Railroad was presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington at 11 o'clock this morning.

The petition sets forth that the complaints are engaged in the making of coal, the manufacture of coke and in the shipping and selling of coke, and that their mines and plants are located at different points on the lines of these railroads in what is known as the Connellville coke region. The complaint recites the rates on coke which are charged by the railroads to consumptive points east and west and alleges that they are excessive, unreasonable and unjust; that they are in excess of the cost of the services rendered, and yield a profit to the carrier much out of proportion to the cost of services; that the rates are unreasonable and unjustly discriminate between the producers and other railroad companies; that the rates now in force in these districts are also established and maintained by concerted action, mutual agreement and combination between the defendants and the West Virginia railroad companies mentioned, and that the said combination and conspiracy acting in concert are "subjecting said Connellville district to undue, and unreasonable prejudice and disadvantage and are giving said other districts undue and unreasonable preference."

The complaint avers that the Connellville region operators, "in selling their coke at said consumptive or destination points, are obliged to compete with other producers in the Fairmont, Kanawha, New River and Pocahontas districts of West Virginia, and the Norfolk & Western railroads, serving said West Virginia districts."

The complaint further alleges that these rates "were established, and are now maintained in force and effect by mutual agreement and concerted action among the railroads."

The complaint further declares that the B. & O. traverses both the Connellville and Fairmont regions; that it charges the Connellville operators a much higher rate to eastern points than is charged shippers from the Fairmont region to the same eastern markets; that the Fairmont region is further away from said eastern markets, and the railroad has a much longer haul; and that, therefore, the rates from the Fairmont region grossly discriminate against the Connellville region, and the Connellville operators are thereby unduly and unreasonably prejudiced and disadvantaged.

The complaint further avers that the cost of mining coal and producing coke in the Connellville region is much greater than similar costs in the Fairmont, Pocahontas, Kanawha and New River districts; that in consequence of such freight discrimination, the Connellville operators are unable to compete successfully at said consumptive points with producers from the West Virginia regions; that by reason of such discrimination the Connellville operators are losing their business to these points of consumption; that the normal increase of their trade is being retarded; that the West Virginia coking districts "have increased their business out of proportion to the normal increase" on account of said discriminations against the Connellville region; and that all of these discriminations have been by collusion among the railroads.

The petition concludes with the prayer that the railroads be required severally to answer the charges; that after a hearing an order be made demanding the railroads to desist from their violation of the law, and that an order be made "implying as maximum rates in the future to the transportation of coke in car loads from said shipping points in said Connellville region to said consumptive or destination points in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, New York, New Jersey and Maryland such rates of transportation as this honorable commission may deem reasonable and just; and that the members of the complaining association, and each of them, be allowed their damages in the premises, and that the Commission find the amount of damages that have accrued to each of the members of the complainant association, and that it make an order directing the carriers liable therefore to pay the same."

The petition is signed by Edward H. Rowe, Secretary, on behalf of the Connellville Coke Producers Association.

Stole Barney's Fowl; Then Brought it Back

Contractor Bernard O'Connor lost a valuable rooster Monday evening about 6 o'clock but it was returned a few hours later. While Mr. O'Connor's son was coming from the barn after milking the cows, he saw a young man milking off with the rooster under his arm.

Young O'Connor gave chase but was outdistanced. He thought he recognized the thief. When Mr. O'Connor returned, he found the rooster in the yard. The lad told him about it. While talking they heard a commotion among the fowls and went to investigate. They saw the shadow of a disappearing visitor and on investigation discovered the rooster had been returned to the flock.

Child Found Dead in Bed

David Lewis Evans, infant child of John and Grace Lewis of South Connellville, was found dead in bed yesterday morning about 5 o'clock. The child, between 3 and 10 o'clock, the lad told him about it. While talking they heard a commotion among the fowls and went to investigate. They saw the shadow of a disappearing visitor and on investigation discovered the rooster had been returned to the flock.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. E. A. E. Palmquist, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

Wife Murderer Cheats Gallows

INDIANA, Pa., Feb. 15.—Maiding a nose from strips torn from his blanket and fastening one end of the improvised rope to the top of his cell, John McConis, wife murderer, cheated justice in the county jail early today by hanging himself.

He was dead when found by a "strut" on opening the cell doors this morning. McComb, after trying to shoot his wife in their home near West Lebanon on January 23, climbed her to death with the butt of his rifle.

Eagles Feast on Rabbits and Waffles

About 60 members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and their friends gathered at the West Side hotel last evening for a dinner of rabbits and waffles prepared by Proprietor M. J. Roland. The rabbits were sent to the Eagles by Cooper Patterson, who shot them in Iowa. All those at the dinner declared it to have been a splendid one. The members of the Connellville and McKeesport basketball teams were guests.

NEW DEPOT WILL COST OVER $50,000.

Plans for the Building Here are Very Elaborate.

COUNCIL MISSES THEM

Was No Time Yesterday For Inspection of Drawings That Have Been Made—Special Attention Paid to Appearance and Convenience.

Contrary to expectations the plans for the proposed new union depot on the West Side to be erected by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Western Maryland railroads were not exhibited before Town Council last night. The Councilmen were more interested in getting street paving and other benefits to spare time to inspect plans of the handsome structure to be erected. The new depot will be built along the line adopted by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, that of providing architectural beauty in connection with convenience for travelers. The building alone is to cost $35,000, while the platform and overhead work will run into $15,000 or $20,000 more.

The depot will be one story in height and of brick and stone construction. The roof will be of either red or green tile. The top of the building will come somewhat above the level of the passenger tracks overhead. A stairway will lead from the depot to the passenger platforms, with separate flights to the north and southbound tracks.

Whether there will be one large platform in the center, with tracks on either side, or two platforms with the tracks in the middle, has not yet been decided. The platform will be 900 feet long, 150 feet each way from the center of the depot. This will accommodate the longest train likely to be run for some years to come.

The station proper will be 100 feet long, 25 feet wide at each end and 25 feet wide through the center, where the ticket office will be located. There will be four main entrances. North of the depot will be an express office 20 by 20 feet and of construction similar to the main building.

The floor plan provides for a porte cochere on the Western street side leading into the center hall and thence to the general waiting room. Opposite this entrance will be located the ticket windows. North of the general waiting room will be the smoking room and beyond that the baggage department. On the south side will be the retiring room for women. On each side of this hall from the ticket will be located on one side of the entrance from the porte cochere will be the men's waiting room, and on the other side of the entrance stairs to the upper part of the building.

There will be elevators for baggage and express. In designing the building the architects have borrowed from the ancient and modern styles, with Corinthian and Colonial ideas in use.

Big Enrollment in Dunbar Schools

The fifth month of the Dunbar township schools closed Tuesday, February 7, with a total attendance for the month of 2,422 pupils, an average daily attendance of 2,207, and a per cent of attendance of 93. The highest school in point of attendance this month is Adelphi, with a per cent of 98 1/2.

Patrons' day will be observed Friday, February 17. Invitations have been sent to parents and friends urging them to spend part of the entire day in the school and that parents will take advantage of this opportunity to encourage pupils and teachers in their work by being present on Friday next. Most of the schools will carry out the regular daily program, especially in the forenoon session. All teachers will report the number of patrons visiting their respective schools no later than Saturday, February 18, so that a prompt report can be forwarded to the County Superintendent of Schools.

Owner Wanted for an Overcoat

Alex Knepper, one of the four carpenters caught in the basement of the McCrory building at the time of the fatal gas explosion there on January 12th, would like to know who it was that threw an overcoat over him shortly after he had been taken from the burning building. The coat was left at A. A. Clarke's drug store where Knepper was taken, and he would like to return it to the owner.

The Evangelists Create Enthusiasm

Special to The Courier.

BROWNSSVILLE, Feb. 15.—The Divine and Mills evangelistic meeting at the tabernacle last night was of great interest and evidences of the good times are accumulating were manifested. A large number took an earnest and active part in the Scripture and prayer service after which Evangelist Davis asked the audience to tell of any blessings for which they wished to praise God. "Thank God my father has been saved," said one.

"Praise God I have a Christian home as a result of these meetings," said a woman. Many similar testimonies were given rapidly, one after another. As this part of the service was about to close a man under the influence of the Spirit came to the front saying: "Am I too late, I am a drunkard and I want to be saved."

"How many of you believe God can save a drunkard?" asked Evangelist Davis, and the audience raised their hands. "Yes," for him he continued, as some of the pastors knelt beside the man.

Messrs. Mills, Percy, Graham and Granger sang the selection, "Wonderful Power" with excellent blending of voices.

Evangelist Davis preached from the text: "Whereby He is able to save unto the uttermost those who come to Him." He exhorted the audience to make interest.

Following the sermon a number manifested their purpose to live a Christian life. Several hundred women then marched around the front and gave their testimonies while the men sang a hymn. Scores of them announced their desire to become Christians and publicly confessed Christ for the first time in public.

Scottish Wedding.
A very pretty church wedding was that of Miss Mary Yabner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Yabner of Scottsdale, and James Conway of Footedale, which was solemnized this morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church at Scottsdale. Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Lambing. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Conway, a sister of the bridegroom as maid of honor, while Alex Yabner, a brother of the bride, served as best man. A well appointed wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. Covers were laid for the immediate relatives of a few intimate friends of the young couple. Later Mr. and Mrs. Conway left for Washington, D. C., and other Eastern cities. The bride is widely and favorably known in Scottsdale and has many friends in Connellsville. The bridegroom is native born at Footedale. Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Yabner of Scottsdale, and the Messrs. Conway of Brookville. Mr. and Mrs. Conway will reside at Footedale.

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself.

Curious what a serap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens" with what the old Scotchman called the "deevlish part" of your make-up.

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

Most every day someone of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a serap to see if he can rule.

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

There are several of these "enemies" which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whisky, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all. It has many friends, but coolly and cunningly knives them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck, with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give him place to Postum.

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

Ofttimes, the victory of one's better self over a known enemy is followed quickly by remarkable changes—peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

BRILLAT-SAVARIN.

Tribulations of the Famous French Epicure and Jurist.

Brillat-Savarin, the author of "The Physiology of Taste," was the absolute realization of the typical good liver. The French revolution confiscated his property and removed him from his office as civil judge. He fled to Switzerland and then to the United States, where he played a fiddle in a New York theater to gain a living.

His property was afterward returned to him, and he was made a counselor of the supreme court, an office he clung to successfully through changes of empire and kingdom. His "Physiology of Taste" started the sale of many celebrated books. It was refused by several publishers and eventually was published at the author's expense, but without his name attached to it, as he considered the nature of the work incompatible with his judicial functions.

It was Brillat-Savarin who declared that the discovery of a new food does more for the happiness of the human race than the discovery of a star.

"Monsieur the counselor," a hostess asked him one day, "which do you prefer, burgundy or bordeaux?"

"Bordeaux," replied the judicial authority, "but in a lawsuit in which I have so much pleasure in taking the evidence that I always postpone judgment."

The sedan chair.

The sedan chair is named after So-dan, the town where it was first used. The earliest mention of it in England occurs in 1281. Early in the following century the Duke of Buckingham caused much indignation by its use in London. People were exasperated at that nobleman employing his retainers to take the place of horses to carry him. Prince Charles brought from Spain in 1623 three curiously wrought sedans, two of which he gave to the Duke of Buckingham. A few weeks after their introduction Masengier produced his play, "The Bonhomme," and in it he thus adverts to the ladies:

"For their pomp and ease being borne in triumph on men's shoulders."

The reference is doubtless to Buckingham's sedan, which was borne like a palanquin—"Bygone England."

Public Notice

Beginning immediately and continuing every day this week, the Aaron store will conduct one of the most important demonstrations of underselling it has ever planned for this season of the year.

The sole object of this demonstration is to emphasize anew the unique and unassailable position of the Aaron store as the greatest contributing factor to the welfare of the furniture-buying public in Western Pennsylvania.

We have nothing whatever in the nature of old goods to sell off, nor do we indulge in the practice of "buying up" inferior qualities and old patterns for "sale" purposes.

Particular attention is called to the unquestioned newness, distinctiveness and dependability of every article on sale this week at prices way under the figures you are asked to pay elsewhere for goods of inferior quality and commonplace design.

The goods involved in the following special offerings were carefully selected from our regular stocks and are therefore thoroughly modern and up to the minute in design and wholly guaranteed from the standpoint of quality.

MOUNT PLEASANT'S RAILROAD PROPOSITION.
The efforts of the Mount Pleasant citizens to induce the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to build a connecting line from that town to Hecla, a distance of about five miles, thereby making a through line from Greensburg to Hecla via Mount Pleasant, is a proposition which will reflect its benefits upon Conneltsville, and it should for that reason have the earnest sympathy and positive endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce of Conneltsville.

The arguments of the Mount Pleasant people are convincing, and they are irrefutable because they are based upon facts. It is beyond dispute that such a line as that proposed will do more freight and passenger business than that contributed by the present route. Between Scotland and Youngwood, there are no considerable towns, and there are not likely to be much further increase in the population or the traffic of the villages located there. The route through Mount Pleasant, on the other hand, connects with one of Westmoreland county's large and growing towns and will furnish more local passenger and freight business, with the added inducement of a considerably body of virgin Conneltsville coke still undeveloped, than is now cared for or will be carried over the present line. The coke business on the other section is fast declining.

The construction of this new line will undoubtedly benefit Mount Pleasant, but it will also and of a larger degree benefit the Pennsylvania railroad system. There is a community of interest in the proposition. It is one well worthy of the attention of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's officials, and we have no doubt they will give it serious if not favorable consideration.

The only wonder is that the line from Greensburg to Conneltsville was not originally built by way of Mount Pleasant, but this is not a time for speculation but for action.

Spring: I hear some voices calling me.

VALENTINE DAY IN CONNELLSVILLE.

Valentine Day was a great success in Conneltsville. The postal messengers and clerks were busy delivering messages and tokens of good will and kind regards. All the ladies and gentlemen were remembered, and many of the prominent citizens, politicians and public utilities were not overlooked.

The Western Maryland received a very handsome and elaborate creation with numerous strings attached, but the strings were silken cards, and the inscription was, "No nine and Shop with me."

The Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads were the recipients of a large number of cards, conveying the wish suggestion: "In Union there is Strength; in Conneltsville there is an excellent location for a Union Station."

The West Penn system was handed a loyal and loving message in illuminated text within a border of forget-me-nots, reading: "You're for Extension, and for Expansion. The more you grow, the bigger we get."

The Fayette County Gas Company got an atrocious looking comic with the sinister legend, "The Gas Trust, I will trust. It was shamed 'A. C. O. The gas company thinks it has heard the name before."

The Chamber of Commerce and the Town Council received a joint valentine with the gentle and affectionate reminder, "Love us for ourselves alone."

A number of ambitious politicians received very fancy cards with flattering messages, but it is suspected that some of them were writing to themselves.

Old Saint Valentine was in a merry mood and it was a jolly day for Conneltsville, even if some people did look serious.

The Western Maryland and the Town Council have practically come to an agreement for the right of way through the West Side, but the matter will be fully decided at a meeting Friday night. As a matter of justice, prompt action should be taken. The railway people have asked a share to be paid, and they should be met in the same spirit.

The West Penn announces that it will extend its Pittsburgh and Mount Pleasant line to meet at Hecla, and make a loop. This looping the loop some. If the West Penn will extend its line to meet at Hecla, it will be a great benefit to the community.

The Federal Government regulators have discovered a further fact. Lumber is certainly high enough in price, but its rapid destruction accounts at least partially for this fact. The situation is one which will have to be met by brick and cement construction and conservation and reforestation.

We are advised that Conneltsville has a "bushy" from it if it takes the form. It is probable that any other town might have a bushy town under similar financial circumstances.

Scotland has followed the example of other neighboring towns and established a "bushy" from it if it takes the form. It is probable that any other town might have a bushy town under similar financial circumstances.

The South Conneltsville mortar had might be improved by the use of the split-log brick.

The menials are no respecter of persons. It is a transparent fact that the glass brick plant is a growing industry.

TUBERS SIMPLY SWAMPED COKERS.

Dark's Men Were Never in the Running Last Night Against McKeesport.

THE FINAL SCORE 53 TO 32

Was Worst Drubbing Administered on Local Floor This Season and Fans Were Pleased—Big John Ahern Played Better Than Score Indicates.

Score last night, McKeesport 53, Connelville 32. Connelville 14, Johnstown 19.

Games Tonight.

Connelville at South Side, Connelville at Johnstown.

The Cokers received an awful drubbing at the hands of McKeesport last night the score being 53 to 32. If there was a time the Cokers had a chance it was so near the beginning of the game the fans forgot about it. Take on all in all, the contest was decidedly unsatisfactory from the spectators' point of view. Through both halves the Coker players practiced on long shots. Some of them went true; most didn't. Even staid old bank shooters like Kilt Dark and Billy Kummer got the habit. Of course Sears and Morris were doing some mighty close guarding, together with fancy floor work, and the player who got close enough to make an easy shot, was mighty lucky. It didn't happen often.

Big John Ahern—Captain John in the second half—played a rotten game. If you look only at the points scored. As a matter of fact Ahern played probably better than any other Coker. They all played hard, but John took on his broad shoulders, which are nearer the root than those of any of the others, the defense of the Coker goal nearly every time with the result that when the three Tubers dashed away from their men, John found them passing the ball all around him and the man he just left usually got the ball on a return pass and made the basket. Nearly every basket Getzinger made was while John left him uncovered, and the big fellow was not asleep at the switch but working on some other victim.

The Tubers played a swell game and had lots of luck. In spite of their passing was bad and fumbles frequent, but they played good enough to have won under almost any circumstances. That convention of distance shots the Cokers held helped get the ball into the hands of the Tubers on a good many occasions and assisted in running up the score on the wrong side.

The particularly clever work of Sears and Morris helped McKeesport to a great extent. Morris exerted top speed and kept Billy Kummer chasing. Billy played a nifty game and kept even with Morris when it came to scoring. Kilt Dark failed to score in the first half as Andy Sears got only stuck to him like a leech but was playing a swell floor game, which makes work for a forward doubly hard. Kilt deviated himself in the second half and sent White in but Steve was no more successful holding the opposing guard. With 10 minutes to go Reggs was deviated and Elford went in. Less than one field goal, Reggs, as usual, played the game right up to the huddle and put it over Duggie in scoring.

"Plunger" Doherty, grand exalted ruler of the long toss shots, came in for a razzing from some of the fans but a glance at the score will show "Plunger" leading the Cokers in field goals during the game and having one to the good over O'Donnell, admittedly the hardest forward in the league to guard. Doherty worked the long shot game overtime—that must be admitted—but the other members of the team were playing the same game at the same time and there was no reason to get after "Plunger" because he followed suit.

The Cokers were in the game up to the time the score was eight for each. After that the procession began. By the time the Cokers got 9 the Tubers had 13; when they got 11 with a field goal, McKeesport was at 15; at the 12 mark the Tubers had rolled up 23 and the half ended 23 to 11.

In the second half the Tubers made it 20 before the Cokers got 15; went to 32 while the Cokers pined off 17 and 19 on field goals. The Cokers got 20 and 22 while McKeesport was scoring with persistent regularity up to 42. Elford went in at that point. Andy McKeesport scored its third point the Cokers made three field goals, two by Doherty and one by Elford, and then the ball rang. The lineup:

Cokers—32, McKeesport—53.

Dark's Men

Forward	O'Donnell
Center	Getzinger
Guard	Morris
Guard	Sears

Substitutions—White for Dark; Elford for Reggs.

Field goals—Doherty 5, Kummer 2, Reggs 2, Ahern 1, Elford 1, Getzinger 1, Sears 5, O'Donnell 4, Morris 2, Duggie 1.

Field goals—Kummer 10 out of 14; Sears 13 out of 17.

Referred—Alton.

Notes of the Slaughter.

Ahern was without a field goal the contest. Big John worked his head off and in appreciation of his efforts Captain Dark let him lead the Cokers in the second half. He rebounded his efforts and got his lone field goal in this session.

Lots of those long shots went so close to the basket they only missed by a fickle turn of fate. Kummer spilled one that rolled around the ring a couple of times before deciding to drop out.

Kummer's only field goal in the first half was the result of mighty clever teamwork. A tripple pass got the ball to Billy under the basket and he just killed it. Kummer played a mighty swell game if he did make a one hand shot from the far end of the case on one occasion. He almost hit the backboard that time.

Reggs scored his second field goal of the first half through some of the cleverest floor work ever seen in the local cage. He dribbled through the entire opposing team before he could get within shot of the basket. Reggs played his usual hard game and it was through no fault of his the Cokers lost.

Of his four field goals in the second half Doherty made two from the middle of the floor. "Plunger" had a good aim and all five of his shots were from a distance or bad angle.

The Tubers had their share of misses and blew quite a few easy ones. Both teams missed chances to score through fumbling.

Elford got the hand when he entered the cage. He had no difficulty blanketing Tony Reggs and getting a field goal himself. Reggs got a pair of goals while Doherty capped one.

Ahern was up and down the floor but spent most of his time camped beneath the Tubers basket. He pro-

ONE DOSE ENDS INDIGESTION, GAS, DYSPEPSIA OR A SICK STOMACH.

A Little Diapepsin Will Promptly Regulate Any Bad Stomach.

Why not get some now—this morning, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and crumbles. Give it a good cut, then take Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

Swenson thought of going in for Sears during the last four minutes of play but Andy decided to stick it out.

Steve White blocked a pass Sears made but he didn't intend to. The shot, and it was a hot one, caught Steve in the eye. Incidentally, White showed mighty good form against the Tubers. He is in better condition just now than at any previous time this season.

Uniontown comes Friday and with Jack Adams in the lineup will be dangerous. The Cokers can not afford to take chances against the Klans but trust Dark will get the team playing real basketball.

Both Kummer and Sears missed four foul shots but Andy had three more chances. Referred Alton got through the game without a hitch.

A LIBERTY WITH TIME.

Castelar's Interrupted Lecture in the University of Madrid.

In "Home Life in Spain" is a fine story of the University of Madrid, which once had among its professors that Senator Castelar who was for a time president of the short-lived Spanish republic. But when Alfonso XII. was brought to Madrid after the fall of the republic Castelar, with his companions, was called forward an amnesty was proclaimed, and Castelar returned in triumph to Madrid to resume his office in the university. A vast gathering intended to hear his first lecture, and the greatest orator in all Spain mounted the rostrum, looked imperiously at the sea of eager faces surrounding him and began, "As I was saying yesterday" (Como decia ayer).

Between that yesterday and this day he had fought the battle of the fallen republic and had known the bitterness of years in exile. All memory of this, however poignant in the heart of Castelar, had passed from the professor of Madrid's university, and he continued his lecture at the very point at which it had been broken.

Stomach in five minutes. There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapepsin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out of order and uncomfortable now, you can get relief in five minutes.

EDITORIAL.

The best time since almost a year to buy good undermuslins is now, and the reason is: Prices are lowest. To bring this about the garments were purchased, especially for our White Sale at a good season. And White Sale Prices must be lower than prices at any other time, else there would be no special meaning to White Sale here.

Cheap garments we do not intend to have in any sale. Plain, good underclothes made of the best to be had for the money, carefully cut and trimmed with tucks, hemstitched ruffles or simple embroidery and all priced very moderately, indeed, make up a very large part of our White Sale designed to be widely useful.

If all, quantities are larger than last year.

Come expecting to find the most wanted kinds. While the lots are large, it is worth remembering that some of the things you wanted most are likely to melt away the very first day.

White Petticoats

To describe each would be a repetition of some different trimming on the same good muslin body; or of a particular kind of lace or embroidery. Hence of a different width. In the group are Swiss douncings, tucks, hemstitched edges, eyelet embroideries or solid laces. One or two solid numbers are priced specially.

Sixteen Kinds of Gowns

Is your heart set on any particular kind of gown? We believe you've but to name it and, presto! It's before you. So many pretty kinds with dainty flowing kimono sleeves, low neck, lace or embroidery edged and of the softest muslin or nainsook, and the prices:

White Sale 1.25 Gowns98c
White Sale 1.25 Gowns79c

The last priced gown at 79c is slightly yellowed; some others are a trifle mussed, but the price is proportionately lower.

The lot of gowns under this head, and at such prices set opposite the real value are particularly attractive. Some have pretty motifs set in in an individual sort of fashion and others are made attractive with the washable lace and sturdy embroidery that decorates them. The bodies in all are soft and free from dressing. Some prices are cut more than others because of yellowishness in the garments.

1911 calls for wide flouncings and generous widths in all applied trimmings. 27 inch flouncings are particularly noted. Our 1911 stock of trimmings is larger, without doubt than the combined assortments in Connelville. Our exclusive designs are beautiful and the pick of a score or more separate lines. The embroideries were bought at the psychological moment for setting lowest prices. It is because we can't prophecy similar good fortune as being apt to occur soon again this season that we strongly urge sharing the opportunities of this occasion—a bird in the hand, you know!

Description of patterns is well nigh impossible. We regarded strictly, Fashion's decree, have the finest line that's probably been seen in the city. Bought the kind that will please 95 out of every hundred and attended well to getting lowest prices. Come and see them. Here is an idea of what you'll see.
